INTRODUCTION

The Life after School Guide is packed full of information about local services you might need as you plan for your life after school. The purpose of the guide is to provide secondary school leavers with relevant information about further education options, employment information and services, financial assistance, youth support services located in the area and other information that might be useful when leaving school.

If you plan to leave school before completing year 12, we have also included a section that gives you information about alternative education options. School may not be for you, but that doesn't mean you can't continue learning. Additionally, we have included information about support services for young people from culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) backgrounds and for young people with a disability.

CAREER PATHWAYS

PATHWAYS TO THE FUTURE

WHERE YOU CAN GET CAREER ADVICE?

Deciding what industry to work in can be very difficult as there are many options and expectations set upon us to make the right decision. It is important to remember that it is OK to change your mind and explore different career options. When thinking about your career, it is important to consider your personal interests and desires, as it is essential that you are happy in your chosen career.

PARENTS AND FAMILY

Your parents and family can offer great career advice for you when it comes to crunch time for deciding what you will do in the future. Your parents have a lot of experience when it comes to employment options, so they would be a great source of knowledge and information. They can also provide strong support and guidance in your life, so it can be of great benefit to talk to and gain advice from them.

TEACHERS AND CAREER ADVISERS

Your teachers are trained with important knowledge and skills to help provide you with necessary information relating to future education and employment options. It is important to remember that your teachers are around to help you, so seeking advice from them is a great way to start the decision making process.

EMPLOYERS

APPRENTICESHIPS AND TRAINEESHIPS

Apprenticeships and Traineeships combine practical work and training to give you a nationally recognised qualification and the experience you need to get the career you want. Apprenticeships and Traineeships can be:

- Full time or part time
- Started while you are still at school or post-secondary
- In more than 500 occupations from small business to multimedia, sports to retail
- Stepping-stones to ongoing employment or further education

There are two types of organisations that can help you:

Group Training Organisations provide employment and often training to apprentices and trainees. They create employment for you by organising placements with 'host employers' who provide you with on-the-job training and experience in your trade. Host employers effectively 'hire' you from group training organisations. Many GTO's are specifically set up to help young people get an apprenticeship or traineeship.

Australian Apprenticeship Centres provide support and advice to the public on all apprenticeship and traineeship matters. Although they do not actually find work, they are great sources of advice and information on the different apprenticeships and traineeships available, what they involve, training options and your rights and responsibilities as an apprentice or trainee. All the services provided by Australian Apprenticeship Centres are free.

Australian Apprenticeships can be used to define either an apprenticeship or a traineeship. These two types of qualifications differ slightly, but have a few things in common.

You need to be employed in order to complete an Australian Apprenticeship and this employer will pay you a training wage while you learn; either at TAFE or an accredited training organisation. You must complete on the job training as well as structured training (TAFE or training organisation). With some qualifications you are able to complete your structured training in the workplace. At the completion of your Australian Apprenticeship, you will receive a nationally recognised qualification.

Apprenticeships are usually trade based occupations (eg. mechanics, hairdressing, and building) which take up to 3 to 4 years to complete at a full-time pace. In most of these qualifications, you need to have completed the full apprenticeship to be qualified in that particular profession.

Traineeships tend to be non-trade based occupations with some exceptions. They are completed over 1 to 2 years full-time or part-time. Training may be completely on the job or a combination of on and off the job. Unlike apprenticeships, with a traineeship your qualification is complete as soon as you finish the structured training, so you can often complete them before the nominal duration if you work hard.

To find out if a qualification is an apprenticeship or a traineeship contact your local Australian Apprenticeship Centre.

Pre Apprenticeship Courses help prepare you to start an. They are completed full-time over 16 weeks at TAFE

Eligibility

Any job seeker is eligible to apply for an Apprenticeship position, provided they are an Australian citizen or permanent resident (or a New Zealand passport holder)

You do not have to be registered with Centrelink or unemployed to apply for an Australian Apprenticeship.

However, most employers prefer to take on apprentices who are under 21 years old as they qualify for the apprentice training wage.

If you have a disability, your employer may receive assistance for tutorial, interpreter and mentor services or funding under the disabled Australian apprenticeship wage support program.

For further information and to find out if you are eligible, contact your local Australian Apprenticeship Centre

What you need to do to get an Apprenticeship or Traineeship

1. Find an employer by contacting:
  - Employers from industries you are interested in
  - Local Group Training Organisations
  - Australian Apprenticeship Centres
  - Centrelink or Job Services Australia
  - Search advertised job vacancies

2. Once you start employment as an apprentice you will need to contact any Australian Apprenticeships Centre (AAC) to sign you and your employer into an apprenticeship contract.

EXTRA REQUIREMENTS FOR VTAC COURSES

There are extra things you need to do after you have applied for some VTAC courses. Examples are application forms, pre-selection kits, interviews, folios, auditions and attending information sessions. Be sure to complete these for courses you have applied for and any you may wish to add during the Change of Preference period in December. Treat optional extra requirements as compulsory, if you are serious about gaining an offer. NB: If you don't complete extra requirements, you will not be considered for a course, even if your ATAR is very high!

Note: The Special Entry Access Scheme (SEAS) is the umbrella program run by most institutions for applicants who have experienced educational disadvantage. SEAS plays a very specific function in selection. If you have a disability or medical condition you may be eligible to apply under category 5. If you are from a non-speaking English background you may be eligible for category 2. Visit the VTAC website for further information: www.vtac.edu.au/seas/categories

Additionally, some Universities give special consideration to under-represented schools. There are many under-represented schools in the South East area. Check if your school is considered to be under-represented by visiting: www.vtac.edu.au/seas/291-category-7-under-represented-schools

CHANGE OF PREFERENCE GUIDELINES

When you get your ATAR on December 16th you will need to assess whether you need to change your preferences. Preferences must be changed by 5pm on Dec 21.

Please note

- To maximise the chance of getting a Round 1 offer, your last preference needs to be at least 10-15 ATAR points below your score (based on the previous year's ATAR data). You might want to consider nominating a TAFE course to increase your chance of an offer further.
- Leave your dream course as your first preference if you can afford to, even if it's up to 10 ATAR points above your score. Check the list of new and cancelled VTAC courses on www.vtac.edu.au
- Only add courses you are definitely eligible for – check prerequisites and minimum study scores, extra requirements, deadlines etc
- Check that you have applied for a type 1 course (Commonwealth Supported Place or VET place with government funding) rather than a type 2 course, which is full fee paying
- Contact your Careers teacher if you need advice.

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER CHANGE OF PREFERENCES?

The VTAC Guide has a section on how offers are made and how to accept, reject and defer any offer that you may receive. Remember to accept your first round offer by the deadline. To do this, you will need to attend enrolment as advised by your Letter of Offer. You will still be eligible for any later offers. If you get a better offer in a later round, or if you change your mind about enrolling, you can reject your first offer THEN.

However if you don't accept an offer by the deadline, your place will be offered to someone else. It will be too late to change your mind!

WHAT IF YOU DON'T GET A VTAC OFFER?

If you didn't get a first round offer you can use the Application for Irregular Offer form after the close of first round offers. This form can be downloaded from the VTAC website and is used for:

- Making a course you have not previously listed as your first preference as long as it doesn't have extra requirements you should have completed earlier
- Changing your first preference to a course that was lower on your original list of preferences

This form cannot be photocopied. Do not use ink on form – pencil only. DO NOT POST. Take directly to selection officers, but do not leave it there unless they are reasonably sure you have a place. Be sure to get a time to have an answer about your Irregular Offer application – the longer you leave it, the more places are filled in other courses. Check VTAC website for courses with places still available – this should be available after the close of first round offers.

OTHER OPTIONS

- Contact your Careers teacher as soon as possible to discuss your options
- Some TAFE courses in the VTAC Guide may accept direct applications for courses which still have vacancies
- Direct applications can be made to TAFE for certificate 2 or 3 courses or you can apply directly for a part-time place in a VTAC TAFE certificate 4 or diploma course, and then convert to full-time when/if a place becomes available.
- Some newly accredited university and TAFE courses may also be available by direct application. See university/TAFE websites and newspapers for details
- Consider alternative pathways, bridging/foundation courses etc. For example: Chisholm Institute offers Diplomas that articulate into the second year of a Bachelor degree. Monash University offers the Diploma of Tertiary Study (DoTS). DoTS is a one year program studied at either the Berwick, Gippsland or Peninsula campuses that offers students first year university study with extra academic support. Successful students can then apply to enter 2nd year of the degree program. Post-ATAR applications are made directly to the University.
- Further course options, including certificate and degree programs, are available through private institutions and colleges. Speak to your Careers teacher to discuss these opportunities.
- Midyear entry is also available in some courses by direct application. University and TAFE websites usually start publishing these vacancies from mid – May each year.
- Year 12 Portfolio Development – Hallam Senior Secondary College
Some universities require a portfolio for admission into particular courses such as media, visual arts and graphic design.
Hallam Senior Secondary College offer a one year course for post secondary students, so that they can develop a portfolio for tertiary study admission. Students will enrol in Certificate IV in Visual Art and Contemporary Craft, as well as Extension VCAL.
If the student decides not to proceed with further study, the Certificate IV will give them the qualifications for an entry level job in the art and design industry. Entry requirements include an interview, presentation of a portfolio of visual art work and more.
Please contact Hallam Senior Secondary College for further details

FEES FOR TERTIARY STUDY

There are four types of fees for tertiary courses:

- CSP (Commonwealth Supported Places) - these are partially paid for by the government, and the student component can be paid up front, or deferred (now called HECS-HELP) until the student graduates and earns a minimum annual income.
- Fee Paying – offered by Independent Tertiary Colleges (ITC's) and TAFE providers. There is no government contribution for these places and unless you receive a scholarship, you will be liable for the full cost of the course
- International – these are full fee courses for international students
- VET Course Fees if you were 20 years or older on Jan 1 2011- your eligibility for a Government funded Vocational Education and Training (VET) place cannot be determined at the time of application. Eligibility and hence the fees, will be determined by the institution providing the course at the time of enrolment.

For further details on the information in this section visit:

www.vtac.edu.au

PAYING FOR YOUR STUDIES (HELP LOANS)

HECS-HELP is a loan available to eligible students enrolled in Commonwealth supported places. If you receive a HECS-HELP loan, the Australian Government pays the loan amount directly to your higher education provider on your behalf and you pay the amount off when you earn over a specific amount.

YOUTH OFFICERS

Services for young people are targeted to individual needs and circumstances. Youth Teams aim to help young people understand and access the education, training and employment choices available to them and to identify their individual goals. This can involve further study, apprenticeship, traineeship choices, or help getting a job.

Officers in Youth Teams are specifically trained to work with young people. Young people now have access to a One to One Service Officer who provides a personalised service to help the young person negotiate appropriate pathways. This includes a variety of activities such as assessing eligibility for income support, employment placement, accommodation support, providing career information, and making accurate and relevant referrals to Centrelink specialist services and other relevant services in the community.

CAREER PLANNING & WORK EXPERIENCE

Centrelink's career planning can help you to make appropriate and realistic career choices. It's for job seekers who are having trouble deciding what they want in a career and needing direction - whether it is deciding on a course of study, upgrading their existing skills or just finding the right job.

Ask Centrelink about Career Planning, Work for the Dole and Green Corps or search the Centrelink website for more information.

SOCIAL WORK SERVICES

Centrelink has a Social Work Service to assist people who may need extra help by offering short term counselling and support, giving information about or referring to other services in the community. In special circumstances, Social Workers can determine if you are eligible for payments and assist people who are in crisis or facing difficulties in their lives.

Phone the Centrelink Appointments line on 13 10 21 to:

- Speak directly to a Social Worker, or
- Make an appointment to see a Social Worker at your local Customer Service Centre.

PSYCHOLOGY SERVICES

Centrelink psychologists can help you identify your potential to participate in employment, education, training and other social participation activities (such as volunteer work). They make recommendations on the most appropriate assistance to help you develop your potential.

If you want to see a Centrelink Psychologist call 13 2850 or ask a staff member at your local Centrelink Office.

YOUTH TEAMS

Officers in Youth Teams are specifically trained to work with young people. Young people now have access to a One to One Service Officer who provides a personalised service to help the young person negotiate appropriate pathways. This includes a variety of activities such as assessing eligibility for income support, employment placement, accommodation support, providing career information, and making accurate and relevant referrals to Centrelink specialist services and other relevant services in the community.

YOUTH ALLOWANCE

Youth Allowance is a single income support payment for young people regardless of whether they are in education, training, looking for work or sick. Youth Allowance enables you to go from study to training to job seeking without changing payments.

If you are under 17, and have not completed Year 12, you are usually required to be in full time education, undertaking an Australian Apprenticeship or training in order to qualify for Youth Allowance, although some exemptions apply.

You may be eligible for Youth Allowance if you are 16-20 years old and:

- Looking for full time work or undertaking a combination of approved activities, or have a temporary exemption from the participation and Activity Test requirements. If you do not have a Year 12 certificate or an equivalent qualification (Certificate level II or above) you will generally be expected to undertake study or training to meet the Activity Test.
- 16 - 24 years old and studying or undertaking an Australian Apprenticeship full-time.
- Other criteria – check with Centrelink to determine your eligibility

If your circumstances change you may no longer be eligible for the same amount of Youth Allowance. For example, if you leave full time study for part-time study or for employment (even casual or part-time employment). If you are overpaid because you didn't tell Centrelink that your circumstances change you will have to pay back the money.

When making a claim for Youth Allowance you will need to provide proof of identity as well as other documentation. These requirements are listed on the Youth Allowance claim form or you can check with Centrelink.

To apply contact Centrelink on 13 24 90.

Full time students can apply online.

LOW INCOME HEALTH CARE CARD

Centrelink customers who receive certain payments and benefits automatically receive a Health Care Card as part of their entitlement. Full-time students may apply for a Low Income Health Care Card.

A Health Care Card entitles you to reduced cost medicines and health care as well as a limited number of other concessions including public transport and training costs.

For more information call 13 24 90.

ABSTUDY

If you are Indigenous and a secondary or tertiary student or a full time Australian Apprentice, ABSTUDY may be able to help you stay at school or go on to further studies. ABSTUDY consists of a fortnightly living allowance as well as additional components to help with the costs associated with attending school.

For more information, phone the ABSTUDY line on 13 23 17.
